

ACADEMIC SERVICES

Faculty and Academic Advising

Faculty and Academic Advisors work with the student in developing meaningful educational plans consistent with their academic, personal, and professional goals.

Faculty Advising

Each student is required to have one primary faculty advisor. The first-year faculty advisor is assigned to upon entry to the colleges. In spring of the first year, each student transitions to a faculty advisor, usually from the department of the student's intended major. "Exploring" students will be assigned to a member of the Academic Advising Office. Students may enlist additional faculty advisors from areas related to other academic or pre-professional interests.

During registration each semester, the student is required to consult with the primary faculty advisor and obtain the Personal ID Number (PIN) before they can access the registration system online.

Academic Advising

The Academic Advising Office empowers students in developing meaningful educational plans that support their academic, personal, and professional goals. The office also provides assistance and support to students and faculty across the campuses. The office monitors academic progress oversees, academic probation, and proactively reaches out to a variety of student groups.

Student Accessibility Services

Student Accessibility Services ensures qualified students with disabilities have equal access to all CSBSJU programs and activities. The office facilitates reasonable accommodations, determined on an individualized case-by-case basis, for students who voluntarily self-disclose a disability. All services are provided in accordance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act. The office's work is guided by its responsibilities under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, as amended.

Experience and Professional Development - XPD

XPD - Experience & Professional Development empowers students to connect their aspirations with opportunities and translate their liberal arts education to achieve meaningful personal and professional lives.

We coach students to explore, do, reflect, and connect. To learn more about our experience-based programs and ways to engage in major and career exploration, visit <https://www.csbsju.edu/xpd> (<https://www.csbsju.edu/xpd/>).

Libraries

The Libraries & Archives at the College of Saint Benedict and Saint John's University serve the combined student body with a joint staff and coordinated programs and services. We are an inclusive and welcoming organization where all are supported as they engage in inquiry, experimentation, exploration, and creation. The Libraries & Archives partner across campus and beyond to share and connect our wealth of information resources, technology, and expert staff to our diverse community as they seek to satisfy their curiosity and answer wicked questions. To this end, the Libraries' Learning & Research Team collaborates with our faculty and other campus partners to teach the academic and critical thinking skills essential to navigating today's complex information environment. We strive to be the campus hub where all can relax, recharge, learn, and connect, and we have staff dedicated to creating space and opportunities for students to connect to each other and to foster a sense of community and belonging through events, reading groups, a student advisory board, and partnering with student organizations. The Libraries & Archives also employ 60+ students and use that opportunity to help develop their career and professional skills.

Collections

Together, Clemens Library at Saint Benedict's and Alcuin Library at Saint John's hold over a million items, including over 650,000 print volumes, 600,000 electronic books, 200 active print periodical subscriptions, 88,000 electronic periodical titles, and 40,000 streaming media materials. The libraries' online catalog, (see <http://csbsju.worldcat.org/>) allows students to search the collections of both facilities, as well as thousands of libraries around the world.

The joint libraries' website (<https://www.csbsju.edu/libraries/>) provides access to the online catalog and also to research support services from topic selection to citation management. The campus computing network enables students and faculty to utilize these resources from any computer connected to the internet. Wireless network access is available at both libraries.

The College of Saint Benedict Archives (<https://www.csbsju.edu/csb-archives/>) and the Saint John's University Archives (<https://www.csbsju.edu/sju-archives/>) collect resources to document the institutions' history, make these records available for research, and strive to educate students and others about this history. Many of the Archives' holdings can be searched online.

Spaces

Clemens Library at the College of Saint Benedict provides study spaces for 225 students, as well as a makerspace, two computer labs with 36 computers available, and 10 collaborative work rooms. In addition to an excellent core collection of resources to support the curriculum, Clemens Library features strengths in the fields of health sciences, education, fine arts, literature, religion, and women's studies. The resources of the Music Library at the Benedicta Arts Center are also available to all CSB and SJU students. Additional services, including the Experience and Professional Development office, Center for Global Education, IT Services, and Instructional Technology, are in Clemens Library.

Alcuin Library at Saint John's University was designed by architect Marcel Breuer and was built in 1966. It was renovated in 2017 with the addition of the Dietrich Reinhart Learning Commons. The library and learning commons have individual seating for 265 students, three classrooms, an auditorium, and 18 collaborative work rooms. The learning commons houses a video studio, editing lab, and training room as well as a coffee shop. In addition to its robust core collection, Alcuin Library includes many specialized and scholarly works, especially in the areas of theology, life sciences, environmental studies, and history. Other building partners include The Study, the Writing Center, the Center for Teaching and Learning, the Hill Museum & Manuscript Library, and The Saint John's Bible.

Math Center

The Math Center provides services to Saint Benedict's and Saint John's students, offering assistance with concepts and skills that are used in lower division mathematics courses. One-to-one tutoring help (from student tutors and/or a professional staff member) is available on a walk-in basis.

Reference books, workbooks, worksheets, and computer materials are also available to students who may be looking for help with math content in other courses, or who are preparing for pre-professional or graduate school exams.

Office of Academic Assessment and Effectiveness (OAAE)

Overview

The Office of Academic Assessment and Effectiveness (OAAE) provides (a) guidance and support for CSB/SJU academic departments and programs undergoing disciplinary program review, (b) guidance and support for academic departments and programs preparing for required annual academic reporting, (c) leadership and guidance for accreditation by the Higher Learning Commission (HLC) and (d) assessment and evaluation support for CSB and SJU's participation in some national research studies and programs.

Institutional Accreditation

CSB and SJU are accredited by the Higher Learning Commission. OAAE provides direct leadership and support to the institutions as we prepare for accreditation.

Program Review

Every 10 years, each academic department and program conducts disciplinary program review. Program review is an opportunity for programs to engage in continuous, data-informed improvement of their curricula, pedagogy, student learning, and reflect upon the achievements of students and faculty. Departments and programs create a self-study document. An external disciplinary evaluator visits campus typically for 1-2 days and provides an independent evaluation of the department or program. At the end of the process, an action plan is developed to provide accountability and to ensure continued quality improvement.

Assessment

OAAE supports the improvement of teaching and learning on the campuses using student outcomes assessment. We support faculty efforts to advance the quality of teaching and student learning by assisting in the design, implementation, and measurement of assessment activities. We collaborate with faculty, staff, academic and non-academic departments.

Office of Undergraduate Research and Scholars

The Office of Undergraduate Research & Scholars provides support and game-changing mentorship to student scholars in all disciplines throughout their four-year college experience. The office helps students secure competitive fellowships; uncover, plan, and execute research and creative work opportunities; participate in off-campus meetings and conferences, and much more. OURS is also the home for Pathways to Distinction, a new initiative providing students the opportunity to earn distinction upon graduation in alignment with the Institutional Learning Goals. OURS is part of the Experience Hub in Clemens Library.

To learn more about programs and funding, visit <https://www.csbsju.edu/ours> (https://www.csbsju.edu/ours/) or book an appointment via the Hive.

The Study

Located in the Alcuin Library, The Study offers peer coaching and online resources to consistently build skill and confidence, reduce academic stress, and maximize opportunities during and after college. The study offers tools for time management, study skills & strategies, efficient reading. College work is challenging; the Study is here to share information and strategies with students for doing their best work with the least amount of stress and the most positive outcomes. Access online resources or learn more at <https://www.csbsju.edu/the-study> (https://www.csbsju.edu/the-study/).

The Writing Center

The Writing Center (<https://www.csbsju.edu/writing-center/>) provides writing assistance to all members of our academic community. Well-trained peer tutors offer free response to writers during individual writing consultations. Additionally, peer tutors help facilitate in-class writing workshops upon faculty request.

The Writing Center, with an office on each campus, welcomes writers of all backgrounds: honor students, first-year writers, writers from every major, students with learning differences, students for whom English is an additional language, graduate students, staff, and faculty. Writers are welcome to bring in any piece of writing, ranging from essays, lab reports, or letters of application to works of reflection, fact, or fiction. Some writers want a one-time-only appointment for work on a particular piece of writing; others want to establish a series of appointments to achieve personal or program goals.

During an appointment, the writer and the tutor work together to identify and meet the writer's needs. Usually writers who use Writing Center services seek help in one of three general areas:

1. initiating the writing process (understanding the assignment, talking through a topic, organizing ideas),
2. revising (refocusing the text to better support the thesis, polishing an introduction or conclusion, taking the text to the next level),
3. managing conventions of standard written English (correcting sentence structures or grammatical forms).

Writers can make an appointment on The Hive; walk-in appointments are welcome if a tutor is available.
