

VARIABLE CREDIT COURSES WITH ZERO BILLABLE CREDITS OPTION

Specific Course Information

A limited number of variable-credit courses allow students to register for required coursework and earn the credit but not be billed for taking a credit overload. (<https://catalog.csbsju.edu/registration/general/#OVERLOAD>) These specific courses are pre-approved when the course schedule is created each term.

If a student is enrolling in one of the zero-billable option courses below AND doing so will create an overload in their schedule (enrollment in greater than 18 credits per semester = overload), they should register using the Override Request Form (<https://apps.csbsju.edu/registrar/forms/override/>)* and select the course overload option.

The override form becomes available to students as their registration window opens overrides should be requested only when a student is unable to register for courses during their regular registration window.*
